A P P L Y	In today’s key verse from the Gospel of John, we are reminded of how as believers, we are connected to the source of our strength and desire to do good by our relationship with Jesus Christ. We’re much like a light bulb that depends on the power plant to keep it shining. When a storm arises and causes a break in the line, the bulb goes out. So we too can find our spiritual light going out if we allow the storms of life to break our connection to God and the Church, our sources of power, our vine. Let’s not break that connection. Let’s live in the light.
P R A Y E R	God of Heaven, we thank you for the nourishment and blessing that you provide us through your Holy Spirit and our local church. Help us to stay connected to you, so we can produce the fruit of love and grace that you desire for each of us to bear to reach a troubled world. Amen
