A P P L Y	As a faith practice, some people choose to give up something for Lent as a way to remember Christ’s sacrifice. Others might opt instead to take on something, maybe an intentional daily time of prayer or an act of sharing and generosity. In this week’s Gospel, Jesus tells those who warn him of the evil headed his way that he wants nothing else than to be a shelter for them, for all people, but they repeatedly reject him. Consider how we too in our lives might need to “give up” or “take on” in order to more fully recognize Jesus’ presence and plans for us?
P R A Y E R	Dear God- Thank you for the relentless love you have for us, your children. We are grateful that you keep calling to us no matter how many times we might pretend not to hear. Guide our hearts and minds this season of remembrance toward you and all that you have done and continue to do, in our lives and this world. Amen.
