A P P L Y	The story of the brothers who leave their nets and boats behind when Jesus invites to follow is probably very familiar. What we might not as often consider though are the “rules” the brothers might have been breaking by leaving as they did. There were others likely depending on them for the catch that day, damaged nets that needed to be mended and a father required the help of his sons to do the work. Yet the brothers saw greater value in fishing of a different kind, so they stopped and set out. Like those early fishermen are there “rules” or expectations in your life you might be willing to bend or break in order to more fully follow Jesus?
P R A Y E R	Dear Jesus- Give to us a measure of the faith of those fishermen who left it all behind to follow. Guide us as we go into the world sharing of your love. Help us to tell others of all that have done for us, and what you are doing in their lives. Make us better fishers of people each day! Amen.
