A P P L Y	Think about all those places of honor you have occupied in your life. As a child at family gatherings, maybe it was finally getting that elusive seat at the “adult table”? In school and beyond, were you elected class president, an officer of a club or organization or captain of a sports team? The disciples, James and John, question how they might occupy the most honorable place of all -one right next to Jesus. Jesus shares with them an answer, though, they likely were not expecting. You get there by serving others. We should not desire to look important ourselves, but instead always help others and make them feel important. How might you focus more on that servant attitude with those around you each day?
P R A Y E R	Dear Jesus-As we do our best to follow your example, continue to guide our hearts and lives every day and show us how to be greater servants to all those we encounter. Amen.
