A P P L Y	I love my family and friends. I would sacrifice a lot for them. If one of them needed some help, I would go out of my way to help them. You would too. What does Jesus mean in John 13:34 that we should love one another? In Jesus’s parable of the Good Samaritan, it is clear that “one another” is more than just my friends and family? I love and pray for the people that TLC makes quilts for. I love and pray for the Afghan refugees moving into our town. Loving and praying isn’t as hard when the people are right next to me. But there are some people in our community that are harder to love. I need to work hard to respond to God’s love for me by loving and praying for everyone. I hope you do too.
P R A Y E R	Lord God, you teach us that without love, our actions gain nothing. Give us the gift of love, that we may know goodness and peace through your son Jesus Christ.
