A P P L Y	Many of us plant a garden in the spring. We plant the seeds and water regularly for a few weeks, but the gardening season is a long one. We need to weed, replant a few seeds, weed some more, harvest, etc. There is always something to do in the garden. Even after doing all the right faithings in our garden, God still controls the outcome. He brings life. In the Matthew passage, Jesus loves the people around him by teaching and healing. We can’t heal like Jesus did, but we are compelled to love others. God wants our love to be steadfast (see Hosea 6:6) -- meaning continual and not just on Sunday. God will take care of the outcome. How can we worship God this week by finding ways to show His love to others?
P R A Y E R	O God, you are the source of love and life. By the power of your Spirit, bring healing to this world. In hope, we pray that we can be your hands in service to others.
