A P P L Y	You probably have heard that next week there is going to be a solar eclipse. If you miss viewing it this time around, you will have to wait until the year 2044 to experience another one. On Monday, here in Stevens Point, the sun will be partially obstructed for nearly 2 ½ hours as the moon passes in front of it. In our reading from 1 John, we hear how sometimes in life and faith, it can seem like we're experiencing our own eclipse of sorts. While we know God is there for us, sin and darkness do their best to work their way in, to get in the way and keep us from fully seeing the true source of our light. But God who is "faithful and just" offers each of us forgiveness and grace and through the death and resurrection of Jesus a way to see beyond our present difficulties and failings to a love that never fails. Think about those things in your life right now that might be obstructing your view of God's light and love for you?
P R A Y E R	Gracious God- Thank you for your never-ending presence in and through all that we experience. Guide us each day, illuminate our paths and help us to share of your love and light with others wherever this life takes us. Amen.
