A P P L Y	We likely start out each day with an idea of the things we hope to accomplish. Those "agenda items" often reflect our priorities. Yet too often we seem to find more than enough ways to get distracted, our time and attention drifting off toward other stuff, that which really isn't and shouldn't be so important. Paul warns the Corinthians of this very thing, that the idols they create only draw them away from God and the community God truly desires. How do you make God a priority in the midst of the busyness and distractions of your days?
P R A Y E R	Loving God-In this season of Lent, help free us from those things that sometimes distract us so that we might draw closer to you. Help us to refocus our minds and our hearts on all that you desire for our lives. Amen.
