A P P L Y	It is the day of Jesus’ crucifixion and as he is nailed to the cross, the leaders and soldiers gathered there mock him, challenging his very power and identity. Jesus doesn’t blame them, however. Instead, he offers forgiveness, not only for those making fun of him, but for the criminals hanging from the crosses at his side. As we remember Christ the King Sunday this week, we recognize the vast difference between Jesus as the “king of our hearts” and other kings we know of in this world or many throughout history. Might Jesus’ reign of grace, forgiveness and love for all people be one that we seek to follow in our lives? Think of a time when you were able to (or struggled to) forgive someone who was openly unkind to you?
	Dear Jesus- You are our King and the Way and the Truth and the Life you call us to carry to a world in need. May you continue to rule in our hearts as we love and serve your people each day. Amen.
