A P P L Y	As Jesus shares with his followers the painful reality that he will soon be crucified and die, you can imagine the emotions they were feeling. Their minds swirling with questions, their hearts sad, fearful and uncertain of their own futures. Through the meal they shared that night and the conversations that followed, Jesus offers them reassurance, that his presence will never really leave them. My love isn't going anywhere, he says, and my voice will continue to guide you...so listen for it. In the midst of the worries of your life and the troubles that seem to fill the world in which we live each day, where are those places you listen for the sound of God's voice and in doing so, find the confidence to journey on?
P R A Y	Dear Jesus-Help us to trust in your presence and promise for our lives. When our circumstances could easily lead us to despair, may we find the hope we truly seek in you and your never-ending love. Amen.
